Several Important Roads Closed to Traffic

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 20 -(UP) - Ohio river flood waters that inundated a few portions of Wheeling receded today after the season's second "baby" flood crested here at 37.3 feet and started a rapid recession.

Low-lying areas of South Wheeling and the southern end of heavily populated Wheeling island, were flooded by the ice-laden water when it topped the 36-foot stage. A few business establishments in the city proper received water in their basements.

Interurban rail service between Wheeling and Moundsville and Wheeling and Bellaire, O., was scheduled to be resumed shortly after interruption by the high vaters. The Wheeling-Moundsville cars were haited at 10 a. m. Sunday, while the Bellaire service stopped at 4 p. m. the same Committee Favors Action Asked By F.D.R.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20-(UP) -Early action by the senate on President Roosevelt's proposed housing bill, designed to stimulate construction of small homes, was expected today.

The senate's banking and currency subcommittee voted yesterday to report the bill to the full committee today. It corresponds in all major respects to the bill passed by the house Saturday night after 10 hours of debate, which, in effect, is an amendment liberalizing and broadening the score of the 1934 National Housing act.

The senate was expected to act favorably on the bill before its scheduled adjournment Dec. 22. Major Points Listed

The major points of the bill are: Permission for the federal housing administration to insure up to 90 percent of the amount of mort-86 percent on houses up to $8,600, and continuation of the 80 percent limitation or construction above $8,600.

Boys Are Boys

Boys, that is a lot of 'em, have way of figuring things out same as the grown ups. A youngster came to the waiting room of Doctor Rockey's office the other day to have a tooth pulled, but the place was full up and he had no chance to get service for quite awhile so he left and went down stairs to "Brinks" where there was plenty of good candy showing itself. Then is when he got busy BURIAL IN REBER HILL giving it "a good think" He philosofized (spell it yourself) it would be very much better to spend that good candy, then to give it to "Old Rocky" for "hurting him a lot." So he got a string fastened around that bad tooth, gave a yank and out it came. And we all knew he was happy, a whole dollar to spend for candy, and just at Christmas time, too. The reason we can't at Mt. Carmel hospital Saturday tell you who the lad was, is beevening at 9 o'clock. He had been cause we did not meet him. This story is second hand but true just

"There has to be wisdom and intelligent forbearance on the part of government administrators of the law, and also brilliant, two-fisted Irishman carries wisdom and intelligent forbearance on the part of business. It is necessary to give the public the facts, and necessary for everyone to accept the decisions of a fair but not punitive umpire.

"Name-calling by either sire, government or business, cannot solve such a problem. Government and business must work together for the benefit of all concerned!"

These are elementary principles in a democracy, but too much neglected. The big fact, sticking up like a sore thumb out of this depression, is the great need of mutual confidence and co-operation of all the important groups in this country. There is no other way in a free country. If our quarrelling groups will not co-operate voluntarily, they will be inviting co-operation with a club at the hands of some Hitler, Mussolini or Stalin.

JIMMY ROOSEVELT AIDS BUSINESS

MASHINGTON—New York and Boston friends of Jimmy Roosevelt are boasting about the way he champions business during inner council debates over White House policies.

They claim the President's eldest son and secretary is urging prompt and drastic relaxation of the capital gains and undistributed profits taxes, hefty pruning of relief expenditures and abandonment of the hostile attitude toward utilities.

They also credit Jimmy with putting over the appointment of John W. Hanes, Wall Street broker, to the SEC.

According to his friends, Jimmy is not merely pleading the cause of business but "To maintain a pacific relationship be- is militantly opposing the counsel of other relief and utilities.

SAN FRANCISCO FEUD

Jimmy was able to put over his good friend Hanes thanks to a bitter San Francisco feud.

First choice for the SEC job, after it decided in the inner council to bracket a broker with the militant New Dealer Jerome Frank, was Frank Shaughnessy, head of the San Francisco Stock Exchange.

Politically he was a bull's-eye choice, being both a Catholic and a westerner. Neither is represented on the commission.

Appointed simultaneously with Frank, a Jew, the combination would have done much to offset the Black-Klan incident.

Ashville Church Scene Of Peters-Runkle Vows

Rev. Fudge Reads Wedding Service Sunday

Woodwardia fern, hemlock, orange huckleberry and southern smilax banked the altar of the Lutheran church of Ashville, Sunday, when Miss Francile Runkle and Mr. Everett Peters exchanged wedding vows. Tall white candles in single holders and a pair of seven-branched candelabra cast a soft glow over the wedding party. White satin ribbon marked the 3:30 o'clock, Miss Eliza Plum played a program of nuptial music at the organ, and Miss Betty Ellis, of Columbus, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Lawrence Schaaf, of Bexley, sang three solos. Miss Runkle was given in marriage by her father, E. L. Runkle, of Ashville, Mr. Frank Williams, of Lockbourne, served as best man for Mr. Peters.

For her wedding, Miss Runkle chose a white satin model made floor length, with a high neckline, and finished at the back of the waist with satin covered buttons from neck to waistline. The long sleeves were ended with points over the hands. Panels fell from the waistline at the back to form the long train. Her veil of tulle was caught to her hair with braided strands of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Pride roses, white sweet peas and gardenias.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Charles DeVoss, of Harrisburg, served as matron-of-honor. Her gown was velvet. She wore matching accessories. Elks' New Years Dance

Following a custom of long standing, the Circleville Lodge of Elks will usher in the New Year with a dance, which gives promise this year to be even gayer than usual. At the last meeting of the committee in charge of plans, Melvin Mettler, general chairman, received the reports of the various members on the progress of arrangements for the gala affair. The hall decorations will be arranged by a professional decorator, and will be outstanding in beauty. Favors purchased for the occasion are unique, and as the clock strikes the hour of twelve, plenty of noisemakers will be supplied the guests to help the merry din that is the climax of the gayety of

FIRST CONTEST Tide Chances to Win SCHEDULED AT Depend on Reserves

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20-(UP)-For at least thirty minutes in the Rose Bowl on New Year's day Alabama's Crimson Tide football team will be pitted against the strongest eleven in the country, and one of the strongest ever produced on the Pacific coast.

During that first 30 minutes of the Pasadena extravaganza the California Bears are almost a certainty to riddle the Alabama line with a series of savage thrusts and twice march across the pay off stripe for touchdowns. To win, the southerners must come prepared to score at least three touchdowns. One will cost them defeat, and two won't get them any better than a tie.

That's not my opinion. It is the opinion of two men who know as much football as anyone you care to name - Howard Jones, head coach at Southern California, and Aubrey Devine, onetime all American from Iowa and now a scout for Jones. Between them the Messrs. Jones and Devine have seen the Bears in action five times this season. And therefore speak knowingly of the outfit that Alabama must thwart to keep intact the brightest of all Rose Bowl
